EMPLOYERS AND JOBSEEKERS

Leicester College student Jonathan Smallwood was recently given the opportunity to do a week's work experience placement with Henry Boot Construction Limited.

Henry Boot are currently renovating the University of Leicester's Brookfield Campus, a project worth around £8m.

Jonathan Smallwood who aspires to become a Quantity Surveyor, learnt valuable skills during his placement. He hopes to embark on an apprenticeship in the future.

Sandra Rieger, who organised the placement as part of the Council's Constructing Leicester initiative, said: "Through the Leicester Employment Hub, we are keen to support individuals looking for work experience placements or apprenticeships in construction."

Adeana Raper, Employment & Skills Manager at Henry Boot said: "By giving students the opportunity to experience real live projects, we hope to inspire them and give them valuable skills so that they can be a key part of the industry's future."
