

HMP Stocken is a 'Category C' Adult Male Training Prison in the rural county of Rutland. As a 'Training Prison' it is our aim to provide Offenders with work skills to help them gain meaningful employment on release from custody.

Over half of employers struggle to fill vacancies due to skills shortages, according to The Chartered Institute of Personnel and Development (CIPD).

Working with prisons to offer training and employment opportunities makes good business sense, as well as helping prisoners and ex-offenders get their lives back on track. It allows your business to unlock opportunity and tap into a new pool of talented, highly motivated people who you might not have considered before.

What opportunities are there at HMP Stocken for Offenders?

- Offending Behaviour Programmes.

What would we like from Local Employers?

- To give HMP Stocken an opportunity to show you what we do for Offenders to help them gain the education, skills and a work ethic to be a valued employees outside of custody
- To give local employers an opportunity to work with us, to provide work for our offenders whilst in custody and prepare them for employment with you, or within your commercial sector.
- To tell us what educational needs and employment skills you would like Offenders to have to make them employable within your business sector.
